in collaboration with

IE Med.
European Institute of the Mediterranean

In collaboration with the European Institute of the Mediterranean, the IBEI Summer School of the Mediterranean offers different short courses on significant topics in international relations and the Mediterranean area, taught by experts of international prestige. The direction and coordination of the summer school will be provided by Prof. Pere Vilanova (Universitat de Barcelona).

The summer school is aimed at graduate students, professors and researchers in the areas of political science, economics, and international relations and international studies who are interested in learning first-hand about the latest advances in research on Mediterranean politics and international relations. The courses offer a discussion and evaluation of the ongoing process of transition and transformation of the Arab countries of the region, under the light of this year's events.

PRICES AND DISCOUNTS

The price of each course is 300 €

Discounts:

Early registration (before June 13th) - 240 €

For second course (and successive) - 225 €

Your registration will be complete once the payment has been confirmed.

SCHOLARSHIPS

There will be some scholarships sponsored by IBEI. The selection of candidates will be based on a number of criteria: young faculty or PhD students citizens from the Mediterranean area (non-EU countries). Interested persons must send to IBEI (by post or email summer@ibei.org), until 10th June 2011, a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae; a recommendation letter; and a document from his/her university that credits his/her position.

The scholarships will cover accommodation in Barcelona for a week and two courses fees.

CERTIFICATION

At the end of each course you will get an IBEI's certificate of attendance, if you attend more than 80 % of the sessions.
